HOME & OUTDOOR 2022

INNOVATION - A WAY OF LIFE

BLACK+DECKER has been at the forefront of innovation starting with the invention of the first pistol grip electric drill in 1916. It has since brought several world's first for its consumers to emerge as a global marketer and manufacturer of quality products used in and around home.

In 1979, BLACK+DECKER invented a completely new concept in household cleaning called as Dustbuster®, expanding its cordless revolution from the workbench to all parts of home and beyond. Since the launch of world's first handheld cordless vacuum cleaner and evolving through Pivot (2006) and Flexi Dustbuster® (2009) designs into the current day range, almost four decades later BLACK+DECKER continues to lead innovation in the handheld cleaning category.

In 2010, for the evolving hypoallergenic home sanitizing segment, BLACK+DECKER developed the Steam Mop™ Deep Clean Series encompassing an all-round home steam cleaning solution, catering both floor and above-the-floor applications. The global success and wide acceptance led to the development of a full range of environmentally friendly steam mops in 2012, using only water and heat. The most recent introduction in 2017 i.e. 3rd generation of steam mops is a more advanced range and includes an innovative SteaMitt™- giving the power of steam in the palm of user's hand.

With a heritage of more than 100 years as one of the most trusted brand in the world, in 2014, BLACK+DECKER revealed a new global brand identity for its consumer branded tools and home products. The new BLACK+DECKER identity builds on that trust of providing innovative and reliable products while providing consumers a meaningful, emotional and empowering experience for the home.

At BLACK+DECKER, we are focused to create practical, meaningful products and services that make life easier - empowering people to do better, safer, more significant work!

VACUUM CLEANERS

5 FACTORS TO BE CONSIDERED WHILE CHOOSING THE VACUUM CLEANER

If you're serious about cleaning your carpets and shining your floors, just any vacuum won't. Type, features and vacuum design are important, but the type of floors and the level of cleaning they require should be your focus when making a decision.

BAG OR TANK CAPACITY: The more quickly the bag fills, the more frequently it will have to be changed. Keep in mind that, as the bag fills, the efficiency of your vacuuming goes down. Change bags often for top efficiency.

AIR FLOW: This will be measured in cubic feet (or centimeters) per minute. The more air flow, the better. Air flow is what carries the soil up into the bag or container.

AIR FILTRATION: The cheapest systems have a cloth bag that has to be dumped, cleaned regularly and replaced since it becomes saturated with dust. Better units will have two to four stage filtration systems with throw away paper filter bags down to 0.3 micros or less to reduce dust.

ERGONOMICS: The weight of the machine, handle construction, wheels or rollers if an upright unit, length of cord and maneuverability are all factors that impact the decision for utilizing a unit.

KEEP AN EAR OUT FOR NOISE: When it comes to hearing protection, canister vacuums are the best choice because they tend to be quieter as compared to other types of
